EDE303 Ethics in Education

English Language Teaching Department - Compulsory Course

Credit: 2        ECTS:3

Course Description: The "Ethics in Education" course is mandatory for third-year students, emphasizing the pivotal role of ethical principles in educational settings. Through active engagement in presentations, discussions, assignments, and critical thinking exercises, students explore fundamental ethical concepts, rules, and professional ethics for educators and administrators. The course addresses potential unethical behaviors, providing strategies to mitigate them, and guides students in navigating ethical dilemmas. Additionally, it delves into topics such as the right to education and becoming an ethical professional in the field.

Course Outcomes:

- Gain a comprehensive understanding of ethical processes and their significance in educational institutions.
- Apply ethical approaches to education in practical educational settings.
- Recognize the importance of adhering to ethical parameters for school teachers and administrators.
- Analyze and critically evaluate ethical dilemmas, proposing viable solutions in a professional context.
- Reflect on personal experiences and demonstrate commitment to ethical standards.